My career in mining began in 1972 with Rochester & Pittsburgh Coal Company, spanning ten years in various positions that included; general laborer, machine operator, maintenance electrician and Assistant Mine Foreman.

Since 1981 I have been involved in mining machinery with several manufactures specifically concentrating on Continuous Miners. In 2002, I joined the DBT organization as Vice President of Continuous Miners, responsible for engineering, marketing, research and development.

I have always enjoyed the engineering and equipment side of the industry and feel it has been very beneficial in my career to have started with my roots in mining.
