

Edward F. Zeglen Jr. P.E. Chief Mining Engineer, PEG. He has a BS degree in Mining Engineering from Penn State. He is a registered professional engineer in Pennsylvania and a certified mine foreman in Pa. and Utah. He is also a certified surface foreman in Utah. He is currently overseeing ventilation across the company including modeling and shaft site selection. He has 29.5 years of experience. He has performed ventilation trouble shooting in Pa., WVa., Alabama, Colorado, Utah, and New South Wales, Australia. He is a member of the National Mine Rescue Association. He spent 11 years as a briefing officer for mine rescue teams. He is the Vice President of the PCMIA and board member of the SME – Pittsburgh Chapter. He is on the steering committee of the Mine Rescue Training Center in Ruff Creek, Pa. He has held various engineering positions from co-op student engineer to engineering manager. He also has held operations positions including: Safety Supervisor, Assistant Mine Foreman cm production and outby to General Mine Foreman.