

Michael A. Trevits

Michael has been a member of SME for over 16 years. He is a Research Physical Scientist in the Disaster Prevention Branch, NIOSH Pittsburgh Research Laboratory. He is currently researching methods for improving the technology for remote construction of mine seals for mine fire control and abatement and the development of novel methods for remotely suppressing mine fires. Michael has authored 102 publications and has been granted one patent. He also serves on the Board of Directors of the Pittsburgh Coal Mining Institute of America. He holds a B. S. in Geology and a M.B.A. both from the University of Pittsburgh. Michael is a Registered Professional Geologist in North Carolina.